
TIPS TO MAINTAIN THE WHITE BOARD WRITING SURFACE:

While using White boards, many a times complaints of Writing Surface not getting cleaned properly, or stains of previous writing seen on the surface, or writing surface becoming rough, come regularly.

In order to maintain the writing surface of the white board, one should use the White Board Cleaner regularly. If one uses the board occasionally the White Board Cleaner should be used atleast once a week. For boards being used on a daily basis like in the offices or seminars, they should be cleaned immediately after the training session or the seminar is over.

Cleaning of White boards surface helps in maintaining the writing surface for a longer period.

For any White Board, while writing with a white board marker pen, one has to wait for the ink to dry. If you wipe the board while the ink is not dry (ie. Immediately after writing on the board), the ink will spread on the board and make the writing surface smudgy.

After any training session, the white board has to be wiped out properly. In case you leave the writing marks on the writing surface for many days, the previous writing stains (ghost) will be seen on the board.

One has also to see that the felt of the board eraser has to be clean. The felt or the eraser has to be replaced atleast after 2 months depending on the periodicity of use else the stains of the eraser felt will be transferred on the writing surface making the writing surface smudgy.

It has also been observed that many a time people use the stained eraser/felt without replacing it & since the board does not get wiped off they use pressure on the eraser to clean the writing surface.

THIS INDUCES SCRATCHES ON THE WRITING SURFACE MAKING THE WHITE BOARD TOTALLY USELESS.

It has also been observed that Permanent Marker Pens are used on the writing surface by mistake, & once the person realises the mistake, he tries desperately to clean the written matter by scrubbing the written matter thus spoiling the board surface. In such cases cleaning the surface with the White Board Cleaner helps in removing the Permanent Marker Stains.

ONE SHOULD KEEP A WHITE BOARD CLEANER ALWAYS HANDY NEAR THE BOARD.

IT HELPS IN MAINTAINING THE BOARD SURFACE PROPERLY, THUS SAVING THE CAPITAL INVESTMENT COST IN REPLACING THE BOARDS.
